FINE HORSE WAS KILLED

And A. E. Jackson and Son Received Shocks From a Live Wire Across Mallard Street.

Saturday night between 9 and 9:30 o'clock, the delivery horse of A. E. Jackson, the grocer, was instantly killed by a live electric wire across Mallard street, near the Jackson home, and Mr. Jackson and his son both received shocks, Mr. Jackson being rendered unconscious. The wire that killed the horse carried twenty-three hundred volts of electricity. A pole to which the wire was attached had become decayed and the wind earlier in the evening blew it down, leaving the wire on the ground. After closing up Saturday night, Mr. Jackson and son drove home in the delivery wagon. When they were near home the big horse suddenly dropped in his tracks and was dead before he hit the ground. Mr. Jackson says he knew instantly that the horse had touched a live wire and he told his son to jump from the back of the wagon. In doing so the young man touched some metal part of the wagon and received a severe shock. In the meantime Mr. Jackson got from the wagon on the side and in getting out placed a hand on one of the wheels and was knocked senseless for a short time. The trouble was reported to the linemen, who soon removed the dangerous wire. The linemen who responded to the hurry call said the fallen wire was carrying twenty-three hundred volts of electric juice.

Gratifying Attendance.

Despite weather conditions yesterday, the attendance upon the Bible school of the Christian church was very gratifying to those in charge, two hundred and thirty-three persons answering roll call. Four new scholars were enrolled, five visitors reported, and the offering amounted to $6.35. At the teachers' meeting yesterday a committee was appointed to make preparations for the Christmas exercises. It is probable that a Christmas tree, with exercises, will be the result of the deliberations of the committee. Secretary.

BIG CHRISTMAS DINNER

Salvation Army Makes a Plea For Kindness For the Poor of Palestine.

Let a man invite the poor to dinner, and how people would stop and stare and gaze with wonder at the stream of poverty creeping along and pouring in at his open door. They came hobbling on crutches, the blind led by a dog or little child, the widow clad in rusty weeds, the poor outcast with rags on her back at her bosom a shivering infant, children shivering and homeless from streets that are haunted by day, and from dirty dens and cellars their cold home by night. But thank God there is mercy for the poor, to the poor the gospel is preached. Lazarus went up while Dives went down. And there are candidates for imperial splendor in the back alleys and by the poet fire of the Irish shanty. King Jesus set up His throne in a manger and made a resurrection day of the poor widow of Nain and opened the gate of Heaven wide, so that all of the beggars, thieves and scoundrels of the universe might come in if they only repented. It is the heart that makes a rich man. He's rich or poor according to what he is, not according to what he has.

So I am going to ask that all of the people of Palestine, one and all, lend a helping hand by giving your money and goods to help us give every one that is in the city of Palestine on Christmas day a good, hot dinner. Some will be in our city that are away from mother and home; no one to love them or speak a kind word to them, and some will be in our city who have no mother or sister at home—no one to cook them a good Christmas dinner. To such we are going to ask them to our hall to take dinner with us and make them know that some one loves them and cares for them. And they will never forget the Christmas they spent in Palestine. We are going to set this dinner with the money that you give us. We are also going to have a Christmas tree for the poor children of Palestine. We are going to give to every poor child that comes to our Christmas tree a present, shoes and good warm clothes, and we are going to have this Christmas tree with the money you give to us. We know that you will help us. While you and your family are gathered around a good hot fire and eating your turkey and cranberry sauce, let there be hungry children that are not getting pork and beans to eat.

Make all checks payable to Capt. J. C. Hall, phone 1043; or if you wish, we will accept some cakes or pies for our Christmas dinner (you know the poor boys like pies and cakes) our headquarters are 309 Palmer street.

Capt. J. C. Hall.
